WOREC Nepal is a national NGO working in partnership with local people, I/NGOs, GOs and WHRDs for the promotion of Human rights and sustainable community development based on social justice. As a result of continuous advocacy of women led NGOs like WOREC Nepal, and acknowledging the magnitude of violence against women and need for immediate state intervention to address the problem the Government of Nepal declared 2010 as a "Year against Gender Based Violence." The government's national plan of action has been launched as a national response for the prevention of Gender Based Violence. WOREC Nepal was in the forefront for advocating the urgent intervention to end gender based violence. Further more, much awaited new constitution was in its drafting process. And the civil societies were actively involved in collecting the issues and concerns of the marginalized groups from all over Nepal. WOREC was in the fore front in that endeavor. It was advocating with the constitution drafting committees so that women's issues were ensured in the new constitution and that constitution writing process be complete within the stipulated time frame. Political turmoil, obstacles in the peace process, impunity, proliferation of different armed groups, frequent strikes were some of the obstacles which WOREC faced during her work. However with the support of friends, well wishers, community partners, community people, donors and staffs of WOREC Nepal who are working at the community level in difficult situation WOREC could manage to overcome the challenges and the difficulties. It is hoped that this annual report will provide brief information about WOREC Nepal and its the programs with our commitments and major achievements.

WOREC Nepal would like to express unique gratitude to all its partners at community, national and international levels, as well as government authorities, community stakeholders, and well wishers for the support provided to promote women right as human right in Nepal, and for the solidarity in the women's movement in Nepal. WOREC Nepal is very confident and hopeful that we will receive your support and solidarity in future as well to fulfill our commitment to strengthen the women's movement in Nepal towards promoting women's rights and ensuring social justice in New Nepal.

CHAPTER ONE THE ORGANIZATION

Women's Rehabilitation Centre (WOREC) is a human rights organization working for the protection and promotion of human rights. This institution was founded by Women Right Activists in 1991 in order to address the issues of human trafficking and violence against women. WOREC Nepal has been working to ensure the rights of voiceless and marginalized groups to promote social justice. WOREC has been working with disadvantaged communities; and it is one of the leading national organizations that address the issues of Violence against Women (VAW), protection and recognition of women human rights defenders (WHRD), safe migration and human trafficking, and economic, social and cultural rights of women. This annual report presents a glimpse of the programs carried out in the year 2010.

WOREC Nepal has already entered into the new strategic plan phase of 2009-2013. The strategic planning has determined a new mission, vision, goal, strategic objectives, strategic directions, strategies, and major campaigns of WOREC as mentioned below.

Mission	WOREC Nepal will continue campaign for the promotion of Human rights and sustainable community development based on social justice.
Vision	Society based on women's rights and guaranteed social justice is WOREC
	Nepal's vision.
Goal	Ensuring economic, social and cultural rights and minimization of VAW through women's empowerment is the goal of WOREC Nepal.
Strategic	a. To organize and mobilize women to ensure their own rights and end

- objectives
- violence against them.
- b. Capacity building of women right activists and target groups to enhance women's rights.
- c. To advocate and organize campaigns for social justice and women's right.
- d. To sensitize mass for transformation of the culture based on patriarchal norms and values into the culture based on gender equality.
- e. To coordinate with the likeminded institutions and peoples' organizations
- Strategic direction

WOREC will move ahead with two strong integrated campaigns to achieve its goal: VAW campaign and ESCR campaign.

Strategies

Capacity Building

WOREC has major strategy of capacity building of its own staff, activists and local groups. The process of capacity building will continue through campaigns and program activities within these campaigns. Coordination, Networking and Partnership

Coordination with national, international, local, government and non government organizations to take forward the campaigns and continuation of coordination, cooperation and partnership with likeminded organizations and their networks is another strategy of WOREC Nepal.

Monitoring and Case Documentation of Women Rights Violation

Case documentation tool plays a strong role on advocacy to minimize VAW and protect woman human rights. Case documentation helps to analyze the types of violence, nature of violence, degree and frequency test and supports to achieve social justice on the basis of evidences. Therefore, monitoring and case documentation of women human rights violation will be taken as major strategy of the organization.

Advocacy

Advocacy is one of the major strategies of WOREC Nepal. Mass sensitization and issue based advocacy will be strongly continued through different campaign activities. Mass based program to media advocacy from community level to national and international level will be adopted. WOREC's advocacy has been based on analysis of information, case research, documentation and established theory of social justice.

Facilitation

State is the ultimate duty holder; however individual in society is responsible to protect and promote rights of woman during the violation of their rights. When duty bearers stop fulfilling their duties, their responsibilities need to be reminded. In this situation, group facilitation is considered essential. WOREC Nepal has acknowledged facilitation as one of its strategies.

Research and Dissemination

WOREC Nepal, working on right based approach, will prioritize knowledge and data based advocacy. It will come up with certain alternatives while countering certain principles or activities. WOREC will focus on studies, research and their dissemination to support fact based advocacy.

Major Campaigns of WOREC

WOREC Nepal has been conducting two major campaigns—Violence against Women (VAW) campaign and Economic, Social and Cultural Rights (ESCR) campaign.

Under the VAW campaign mainly anti-human trafficking campaign, women empowerment campaign and women human right defenders campaign are incorporated, while the ESCR campaign covers the right to food/livelihoods, right to health, and safe migration campaigns. These campaigns are strongly inter-linked.

Working areas of WOREC

WOREC has been implementing various community-based programs in the following nine districts:

Network Partnership

WOREC is working with national and international networks and coalitions. WOREC is a founder of various national networks like Alliance against Trafficking of Women and Children Nepal (AATWIN) and National Alliance of Women Human Rights Defenders (NAWHRDS). WOREC is a member of the following national and international networks:

	Human Rights Alliance (Alliance Nepal) Alliance against Trafficking of Women and Children Nepal

WOREC is a Secretariat of National Alliance of Women Human Rights Defenders (NAWHRD); and is a Sub Committee Coordinator of International Convention on the Protection of the Rights of All Migrant Workers and Members of their Families under the Human Rights Treaty Monitoring Coordination Committee (HRTMCC).

WOREC has been working closely with Networks like Asia Pacific Forum for Women, Law and Development (APWLD), Forum Asia, IMADAR. It has been working in collaboration with Isis-WICCE's International Exchange Program Institute for Conflict Transformation. Isis-WICCE's International Exchange Program Institute is committed to promoting women's leadership in peace building and conflict transformation through peace education. The institute develops human capital to address the deficit of women's leadership in armed conflict and post-conflict settings, builds a vanguard of women leaders who are able to manage the issues and dynamics of conflicts in their settings, and that they continue working towards eradicating VAW.

Similarly, WOREC worked in close coordination with Ministry of Women, Children and Social Welfare (MOWCSW), Plan International and with UNFPA to combat trafficking and VAW.

CHAPTER TWO PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Violence against Women Campaign

Violence against Women (VAW) has been occurring in many forms, e.g. physical, sexual, social, psychological and economic. These forms of violence are interrelated, and affect women throughout her life, i.e. from birth till death. Women who experience violence suffer a range of health problems; subsequently their ability to participate in public life is diminished. Violence against Women (VAW) is rampant in Nepal. VAW harms families and communities across generations, and reinforces other forms of violence in the society. It also impoverishes women, their families, communities and nation. It is not confined to a specific culture, caste/ethnicity, region or country, or to particular groups of women within a society. The roots of VAW lie in persistent discrimination against women. In Nepalese society, semi-feudal and patriarchal structure, superstitions and illiteracy among women, as well as poverty and marginalization of women are the factors accelerating the cases of VAW at large, but at the same time, impunity in the state and weak enforcement of law are also responsible for VAW.

VAW campaign of WOREC is a vibrant campaign. Various programs are being carried out under this campaign. These programs are conducted to address numerous multi-faceted issues responsible for VAW in Nepal. WOREC's experience of working for more than 20 years at local and national levels has revealed that only a multi-pronged approach, which addresses the numerous and complex causes of women trafficking and all other forms of VAW, is effective in eliminating the unequal power relations and achieving human rights for all Nepali girls, women and marginalized groups. WOREC organized women's social forums in all development regions within 16 days activism program.

WOREC's commitments

- Provide support to women survivors of violence.
- Develop capacity of women human rights defenders (WHRDs) active at community level to document cases of VAW and advocate for proper redress to survivors of violence.
- Advocate for creation of support mechanism for the survivors of GBV.
- Increase the access of women suffering from violence to legal aid, counseling and other support mechanism.
- Strengthen women's role as decisionmakers and leaders.

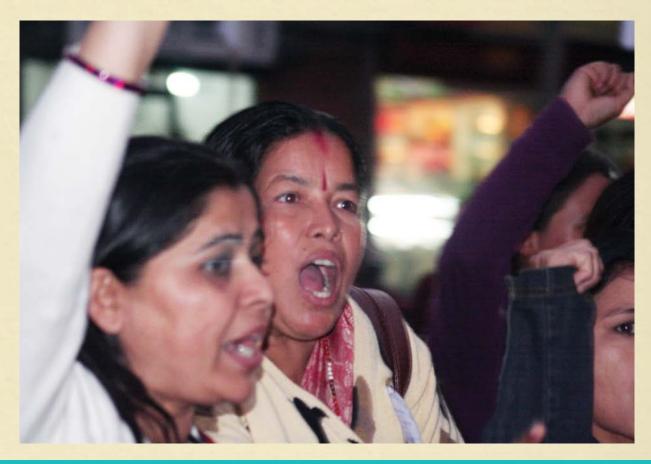

- WOREC has been recognized as an active national organization in the field of genderbased violence (GBV); and there has been strong coordination with the major stakeholders at international, national as well as local levels.
- Capacity of WHRD to document cases of VAW has been strengthened. The documented cases were used for the compilation of Annual Analytical Report on VAW- "Anbeshi 2009".
- WOREC and other women NGO's continuous lobby, advocacy and dialogue with the government was successful. The GoN declared 2010 as a "Year against Gender Based Violence". The government came up with the national plan of action against GBV.

- WOREC advocacy for the safe shelter homes for women survivors of violence became successful. The GoN has announced the plan and budget for few safe shelter homes for the survivors of VAW.
- Coordination between WOREC and mass media has been strengthened. Media has been playing very active role in making VAW cases visible.
- WOREC and other Women NGOs advocacy Domestic Violence Act became successful. Domestic Violence Act has been enacted to provide support to women survivors of violence to access legal justice.
- Capacity of district level resource persons (125) was strengthened to facilitate GBV campaign more effectively in 12 districts.
- Guidelines and resource materials of GBV training were prepared.

Women Human Rights 1 Defenders Campaign

Women Human Rights Defenders (WHRDs) are the people who are bringing the cases of violence against women in public. They are the activists who are supporting victims of violence risking their own lives. WOREC Nepal has managed to create a common platform for women working in different issues of human rights to come together and advocate for their rights and security. This platform is recognized as Women Human Rights Defenders Campaign that has been ongoing since 2005.

Historically, Women Human Rights Defenders in Nepal have been the victims of marginalization and harassment by the state or non-state actors including their own male colleagues. Although sharing equal responsibility of work, WHRDs face more risk compared to their male colleagues, and, in addition, do not receive credit on the work they do. Lack of recognition of WHRDs has placed in the larger strategic play of the patriarchal society to suppress women and to confine them in the private sphere. The pervasive male dominance in every form and shape has reinforced the notion that women belong to the private sphere. This has had serious impact on women's ability to actively participate in the socio-economic and political processes. The democratization process is difficult to take the right course if there is systematic exclusion of women based on religious and traditional cultural practices. Hence, WOREC believes that encouragement of WHRD through the recognition of their work will be one step closer to inclusive democracy. The campaign therefore focuses on capacity building of WHRDs, dissemination of information on rights and education materials, documentation in giving visibility to the violence against Women Human Rights Defenders, advocacy on legal recognition of Women Human Rights Defenders with changes at grassroots and national level, support mechanisms and networking.

WOREC's commitments

- To form nationwide networks of women human rights defenders and strengthen relationships between WHRDs and Women's Organizations working in different sectors.
- To lobby the government for effective mechanisms for the security, support mechanisms and protection of WHRDs.
- To document cases of violence against WHRDs and develop a relevant database.
- To facilitate capacity building of WHRDs at the community level.

- The nationwide movement of the WHRDs has made them visible in the district, national and international levels.
- Expansion of WHRD networks all over Nepal has been one of the Major achievements; and there is a strong networking and commitment among members to strengthen the network.
- Issues forwarded by the WHRD network are taken by the stakeholders seriously.
- WHRD district networks have been able to organize collective actions at district level on the issues of WHRDs. Collective actions of WHRDs during the Uma

- Singh's murder, Nirmala Thapa's murder, gang rape case of police Suntali Dhami by her own colleagues have proved them as actors of change and have created pressure on the government to protect and promote human rights.
- As per writpetition filed by WOREC, the Supreme Court released order to the GoN to enact law to protect WHRDs and against the crime like acid burning.

Women 2 Empowerment Program 2

WOREC Nepal has been working with women at local level. Following rightsbased approach, WOREC successfully facilitated has empowerment of the marginalized groups enabling them to become the change agents. WOREC has facilitated formation and strengthening of women's groups, women's federations and women's community-based organizations (CBOs) aimed at elimination of discrimination, violence, and injustice through collective empowerment and social mobilization. Women empowerment program focuses on the capacity building of various groups depending on the need of community groups.

7	Kailali	63	1376	-	-	-	-
Total		1108	20179	85	1549	2	24

WOREC's commitments

- Facilitate formation and strengthening of women's groups end CBOs at local level.
- Facilitate institutional development of the women's groups and leadership development of women in the community for social change.
- Capacity building of women for the women right advocacy at VDC and district levels.
- Enhance women's access to local as well as national natural / financial resources.

Major achievements

 Women's CBOs, federations and groups have become visible at the VDC/ municipality as well as district level owing to their effective and honest actions. There are altogether 40,000 women affiliated to women groups, WHRD and women

- CBOs in the working areas of WOREC.
- Capacity of the women's CBOs, federations and groups has been enhanced.
 They are taking leadership role in advocacy for the women's issues at VDC, municipality and district levels.
 - Women's CBOs and federations have been able to build coordination with local government bodies (VDC, DDC, LDO, DADO) as well as I/NGOs; and consequently have been able to receive and mobilize natural and financial resources (fund from allocated budget) at local level. This year local women groups and CBOs received Rs. 3,000,000 from various GOs, I/NGOs for implementing various programs at local level.

CHHAHARI 3 Program

Internal displacement of women and girls within the country has published large number of girls in the informal entertainment sector in Kathmandu valley. This sector includes dance bar, massage parlor, cabin restaurants, Dohari (Dual song) restaurants and guest house. Women in entertainment sector are vulnerable as their work is not recognized and respected by the government of Nepal and by the society at large. This has been putting them into vulnerable situations at their work place; and they are facing arbitrary arrests without warrant, violence from their family, hotel owners as well as their clients. Lack of recognition and respect to their work has been forcing women to follow the culture of silence even though they are facing violence at work place and also violence by the police authorities. Even the government labels women working in entertainment sector as "bad women," and the authorities think that government should have strict rules and regulation to control the work and sexuality of women engaged in entertainment sector. WOREC has established women health counseling centre – Chhahari- for such women in Kathmandu. The working area of Chhahari includes Gongabu, Koteshwor, Balaju, Bus Park, Samakhushi, Maharajgunj, Chabahil, Gaushala, Ratna Park, Gwarko, Balkumari and Kalanki.

WOREC's commitments

- To empower women working in entertainment sector.
- To advocate for the rights of entertainment sector workers, and for their dignified life without violence.
- To advocate for the recognition and dignity of the labour of women engaged in entertainment sector.

Major achievements

 Chhahari has been able to provide a comfortable environment to talk and interact about their rights, reproductive

- and sexual health and have made them aware to prevent themselves from HIV/AIDS and STDs as well as voice for their rights.
- Women working in entertainment sector are getting organized, and have become aware of their rights. They have formed their own organisation-Women's Forum for Women in Nepal (WOFOWON).
- WOFOWON has started taking initiative in carrying out activities like orientations and coordination meeting with police and restaurant association regarding the cases of violence against women of the entertainment sector.

Economic, Social and L. Cultural Rights Campaign

By ratifying the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights (ICESCR), the government of Nepal is obliged to protect, promote and fulfill the rights realized under the covenant. However, women's contributions in the agricultural economy and domestic work have been vastly unrecognized. Identifying ESCR as the rights that support for the betterment of women's livelihood, WOREC Nepal has been advocating and centralizing its activity for ensuring the right to food and livelihood, right to reproductive health of women from women's perspective. The food insecurity rampant in the country has made severe effect on the life of the people living mostly in the hilly regions of the country. Out of 75 districts 44 districts are identified as food deficit districts. At this alarming situation, women are more often affected. Economic, Social and Cultural Rights (ESCR) campaign of WOREC is thus dedicated towards ensuring human's economic, social and cultural rights. This campaign also recognizes the fact that when right to food is not ensured in the country, there occurs a massive migration both internal as well as external in search of better livelihood options. Not only men but women too have been migrating; and when migration process is unsafe, women are vulnerable to trafficking, sexual exploitation and other forms of violence both in origin and the destination countries. Realizing this context, this campaign, also focuses on right to work, right to safe migration and right to mobility of women for better opportunities.

Recognizing the fact that migration process should be safer, women should have right to employment or should migrate with information, skill and the knowledge about the destination country. Economically, women do not have access and control over natural resources; culturally women are the one who has to eat last in the family; and socially women are deprived of nutritious food. These social, economic and cultural practices make women vulnerable to different kinds of nutritional and reproductive problems. Thus, this campaign is mainly focused to make the state accountable to its actions/inactions in regard to ESCR from women's perspective.

WOREC has been conducting various programs under ESCR campaign.

Bio-Intensive Farming System 1 and Livelihoods

The contribution of agricultural sector in employment, livelihoods and national economy is substantial in Nepal. It has a significant bearing on the manufacturing and export as well. However, there are many problems that need to be addressed within the conceptual framework of sustainable agriculture and rural development. Climate change has been posing a serious problem on agriculture and on the livelihoods of small farmers of the marginalized communities. The changes in the seasonal cropping pattern, rainfall pattern and degradation of natural resources (land, water, forest and biodiversity) have left small farmers in dilemma. The farmers relying in subsistence agriculture for their livelihoods are migrating to cities and other countries in search of better options of livelihood. This has created double burden on the lives of women jeopardizing the agricultural economy of the country. It is in this background that WOREC has been promoting bio-intensive farming system for sustainable livelihoods of the marginalised and small farmers.

Bio-intensive farming system (BIFS) relies on agro-ecological principles and integrated approaches to food production in ecologically sustainable manner. Bio-intensive farming system is also one of the adaptation strategies to counter balance the effect of chemical inputs and climate change. The central issue WOREC has been addressing is to empower small farmers to increase food production with cheap, low cost, locally adaptable technologies and local inputs without causing environmental damage for attaining sustainable livelihoods. Organization and empowerment of farming community groups have thus been the most important component of the approach for increased food production, food security and sustainable livelihoods. WOREC has been conducting this program in cooperation with Himalayan College of Agricultural Sciences and Technology (HICAST).

The sustainable livelihood program is being implemented in 6 working districts of WOREC viz Udayapur, Morang, Sunsari, Siraha, Dhanusha, and Dang. BIFS is an integral component of sustainable livelihood program. Moreover, different support activities have also been carried out to provide an option of earning for the marginalized conflict affected communities.

WOREC's commitments

- Support in conserving local resources, seeds or bio-diversity, indigenous knowledge and technology.
- Minimize the use of chemical fertilizer and pesticides and provide skills and knowledge on integrated plant nutrient
- management (IPNM) and integrated pest management (IPM).
- Promote commercial organic farming among the local farmers and seed production in the identified pocket areas.

- Promote commercial livestock farming and market management.
- Support Sustainable Agriculture Network (SAN) for advocacy and mobilization of community for commercial organic farming.

- Farmer's groups in the communities affected by conflict were formed and strengthened; and they started to get registered in VDC, District Agriculture Development Office, and different concerned organizations. Afterwards they were able to obtain support for different income generating activities. The women farmers group and Jagaran farmers group of Udayapur district obtained an amount of five hundred thousand each for commercial organic vegetable farming from Commercial Agriculture Alliance/GoN.
- Increase in awareness among the marginalized communities about their rights was observed. Farmers of Jalpa VDC of Udayapur district were able to obtain an amount of Rs 35,000 for small irrigation project and the marginalized community of Katari VDC of Udayapur obtained an amount of Rs 56,000 for pig and goat farming from VDCs as a support to generate income for livelihoods.
- The support program of WOREC targeted to the conflict affected vulnerable communities directly or indirectly has supported for their livelihoods. From the support, community women were able to start their own enterprises like commercial

- organic vegetable farming, commercial livestock (buffalo, goat, pig) production, retail shops, mobile vegetable selling, and so on. That has improved their living condition, nutrition (food security), schooling of children and expenses for health services.
- The farmers are gradually shifting to BIF based IPNM and IPM technologies from traditional subsistence and/or mainstream chemical farming techniques. That is improving the soil structure/fertility (environment) and contributing to human and livestock nutrition and health.
- In coordination with the community of Jalpa and Bhalaya Danda VDCs, irrigation and drinking water systems were constructed. The irrigation system at Jalpa VDC has supported 30 households (7 dalits and 23 janjatis) with drinking water and 40 kattha of crop land with irrigation for organic vegetable farming adopting the approaches of bio-intensive farming system while in Bhalaya Danda 60 households have access to drinking water.
- Training/orientations provided to SAN, Udayapur and SAN, Siraha were quite useful for their mobilization to voice and networking for the farmer's rights, issues of food security and land rights from the landless and marginalised farmer's perspectives at local level.
- Sunakhari Community Training Centre has been established; where first batch of JTA students have completed their course. The training centre has been used by other NGOs, and GOs for organizanising various training courses.

Empowerment 2 of Marginalised Communities

Although the marginalised communities had actively participated in the popular movement 2, their expectations were not fulfilled by the political change that happened after popular movement. They have therefore continued their movement for their rights. Such movement includes land right movement, Dalit rights movement, movement for identity, and movement for safe housing. Further more, they have been advocating for their access to and control over natural resources. However, the GoN has not yet formulated appropriate policy to address those issues, and there is no visible change in the livelihoods and socio-economic conditions of marginalised communities.

It is in this background that WOREC has been working in the field of empowerment of marginalised communities from right-based approach. This program aims at facilitating empowerment of marginalised communities so that they will be able to understand voice and do advocacy for their rights that ensures their identity, food security and sustainable livelihoods.

WOREC's commitments

- Facilitate leadership development among marginalised communities for socio-economic transformation.
- Advocacy for the rights of women and marginalised communities as well as against violence and exploitation against them.
- Inform the marginalised communities about the women and child rights.
- Facilitate capacity building of the marginalised communities for agrobased enterprise and skill development.

Major achievements

Marginalised community groups are

- organized and have come forward demanding for their social, economic, political and civil rights at local and district levels. Organizing various mass meetings, and handing over demand papers and appeal to the subject matter committees, they have been able to attract the duty holders towards their concern and issues.
- They have formed their own organisation (Rishikul Sada Sangha) and strengthened coordination with other networks (Dalit Network, Land Right Forum) at local level in Udayapur and Siraha districts.

Women 3 Health Right Program

WOREC has been working in the field of women empowerment and women health from feminist perspective and right-based approach by emphasizing on healthy womanhood. Women health programs are analyzed in the context of patriarchal society, its discriminatory cultural norms and economic conditions of the rural women. WOREC respects the diversity of women's lives and the diversity that exists among women. WOREC programs are building capacity of the women to take control of their bodies (based on information and access to appropriate health care), education, collaborative decision making (with women deciding for themselves what happens to their bodies), and a social model of health (that takes account of more than just body parts and recognizes the context of women's lives and gender roles, work division, unequal power relations in the patriarchal society).

Realizing the above facts, WOREC has been implementing women health right program and has established Women Health Resource and Counseling Centers (WHRCC) in 3 districts (Udayapur, Dang and Siraha) where as the women health awareness and heath right awareness activities are carried out in other working districts of WOREC as well. WOREC is the first NGO that started advocacy on various women health issues including prolapsed uterus, women's right to abortion and free maternity service.

WOREC's commitments

- Contribute to make community people and women's groups conceptually clear on health, education and reproductive health rights.
- Empower and strengthen the local women's and adolescent girl's groups and mobilize them for advocacy on women's health and VAW.
- Strengthen community-based women's health resource centers and networks and convert them into sustainable infrastructure for women's primary health centers at the VDC level;
- Analyze the inter-relationship between VAW and health status of women.

Major achievements

Owing to empowerment program

- access of local Women Health Resource and Counseling Centre/ CBOs has increased to the financial resource of local bodies. In Udayapur District alone local VDC fund amounting Rs. 274,000 has been released to them to promote women health rights at the VDC level and District Level. WHRCCs/CBOs functional in Dang and Siraha districts also have been able to receive some funds for the same purpose. This has strengthened the sustainability of the program. And it is a good learning to various other organizations as well. Receiving government funds is not that easy. It is women's initiative, work and strong advocacy with the government stakeholders which made it possible.
- Besides funding, WHRCCs have been receiving support from the VDC and Municipality in terms of space and land which is leading towards strong

- Local people's trust and concern to the program has been substantially increased.
- Women health program has been able to cater the women health needs of women belonging to marginalized community and rural community, where the heath services are not easily accessible.
- The National Health Policy of the GoN has already addressed the issues raised by WOREC (prolapsed uterus, free of cost operation of prolapsed uterus, and free of cost maternity service).

by the GoN as a leading organisation working on women health rights. National Planning Commission of the GoN has started inviting WOREC Nepal while formulating national health policy.

Community 4 Health Program

The community health clinic in Udayapur and Dang districts has been providing its promotive, preventive, curative services at grass root level with the objective to increase the health access of community people, provide primary health care to the community people especially the marginalized groups, and to identify the health risks and to refer them to the district hospital and Zonal hospital. It works in close coordination with the District Public Health Office.

WOREC's commitments

- To increase the access of rural people to primary health care services and information.
- To strengthen community health clinic for health service delivery, counseling as well as dissemination of relevant information to grassroots people.

Major achievements

Rural population has access to primary and emergency health care services.

Community health clinic has been providing 24-hour primary health services in Rajabas of Udayapur and Paddha of Dang districts. Besides emergency service, the clinics have been providing primary health services like pregnancy test, ANC, PNC services, family planning services, immunization program, DOTs, school education programs, health awareness programs, mini health camps, mobile clinic and laboratory.

Safe 5 Migration Program

WOREC Nepal is one of the leading organizations actively engaged in advocacy for the right to mobility and right to be safe in the process of migration for work. The lessons learned from WOREC's experience for the last 18 years in prevention of trafficking and protection of rights of trafficked person has made clear that trafficking cannot be prevented without ensuring safe migration of every citizens. Safe migration facilitates empowerment process, and it is an inseparable part from developmental activities. This is an opportunity; however, there are different challenges which need to be addressed in order to strengthen the opportunity and minimize the risks and challenges the migrating persons may come across to. In this context, WOREC has been implementing safe migration programs in 7 districts of Nepal (Table 4).

WOREC's commitments

- Advocate for the migrant friendly policies, ratification of the International Convention on the Protection of the Rights of All Migrant Workers and Members of their Families and for the government's support to the migrant workers.
- Table 4: Number of people who received information from safe migration information booth, 2010

- Capacity building of various stakeholders like potential migrants, returnee migrants, migrants, their families, VDC, DDC level government institutions which will lead to a more supportive environment for the migrants.
- Empower migrants and potential migrants with knowledge and information and to promote justice.

Major achievements

Formation of Advisory Committees on safe migration at district level and good coordination with the committees were the major achievements. Formation of these committees has increased networking and partnership with the local government authorities like District Administration Office, Local Development Office, Labor Department, and Women Development Office. WOREC Nepal is the secretariat of District Level Advisory Committee in four districts.

Early Childhood Development and Child Rights Program

The Early Childhood Development (ECD) Program is one of the integrated approaches to empower women and ensure their and child rights. The program has two major dimensions. It started as an approach that would enable women to utilize their time in income generating activities apart from taking care of their children. The other dimension of the program is the optimal growth of children so that their intellectual as well as physical development takes place at the optimal level through proper nutrition, education and activities.

WOREC in partnership with AEI, Luxembourg and the local WGs and VDCs had formed 10 community- based child development centres in 1998 and 10 more centres in 2001. In 2002 and 2003, those Early Childhood Development Centres (ECDCs) were further strengthened. Altogether 21 ECDCs of Triyuga Muncipality, Rauta, Jogidaha, Saune and Triveni VDCs were handed over to VDC level women groups for their operation. Likewise, five ECDCs were established each in Siraha and Dang (in 2006 in partnership with AEI) districts.

WOREC's commitments

- Contribute to strengthen capacity of CBOs and ECDC management committee for sustainability of early child development program.
- Contribute to increase the school enrollment of children with special focus on children from dalit and marginalized community, and minimize drop out rate.
- Contribute to improve health status of children of targeted areas.
- Increase local contribution and resource mobilization for sustainability of ECDC.

- Community Forest User Groups, VDCs and local organizations support to the ECDCs for sustainability is increasing. The centers have saved the total amount of Rs 704,277. The saved amount has been mobilized for several purposes to increase the fund of the center.
- Two additional ECDCs at Udayapur districts were partially supported by the government.

WOREC Nepal has been implementing a sustainable peace initiative -SAHAJ-as an attempt to extend helping hands to the conflict affected communities. This is a cross cutting program which comes under both the campaigns of WOREC, i.e. VAW and ESCR. WOREC Nepal believes that women's economical, social and cultural rights cannot be ensured in a situation of conflict and exploitation. Likewise, VAW cannot be prevented in a conflict situation. Hence, civil society organizations have to play a crucial role to facilitate the peace process in Nepal.

WOREC's commitments

- Facilitate for constructive dialogue and increase understanding between diverse groups on the issues of new constitution of Nepal.
- Strengthen the capacity of community based groups (women, youths and adolescent girls of marginalized communities) to lobby and advocate on the issues of inclusion.
- Facilitate development of understanding of members (women) of Constituent Assembly to understand women's issue from rights based perspective.
- Advocacy for sustainable peace in the country.

 Provide counseling support to the survivors of armed conflict.

- WOREC program was highly concentrated in drawing the attention and concern of the political parties and CA members towards the issues raised by the rights holders to be incorporated in new constitution of Nepal.
- WOREC was successful in sensitizing the rights holders on their issues; and they were able to hand over their issues, concerns and problems to all the eleven constitution drafting committees.

Community Radio IV Udayapur IV

WOREC has started a community radio "Udayapur Fm 102.4" in Udayapur district in order to advocate women's issues and concerns through mass media. If we see the current trend, most of the mass media houses are run or ruled by men. Many radios are producing programs on women issues but they lack a feminist perspective. WOREC believes that for women empowerment, women from the marginalized community and the rural setting should have an access and control over the mass media. It is expected that this community radio will play a crucial role to bring forward the women's issues from feminist perspective.

WOREC's commitments

- To explore women's issue through the mass media.
- Awareness raising and capacity building of community women in technical part of new technology.

• Raising the women's issues from the women's perspective.

- Community Radio Udayapur Fm 102.4 has been operated by community women for mainstreaming oppressed women's voices and to raise their issues for women empowerment.
- Social inequalities, patriarchy and gender discrimination among women have forced them to continue the "culture of silence". They hardly get any space where they can express their ideas, views and concerns. They have long been searching for such a space. Udayapur community radio has filled in such gap and local women have now become able to express their concerns, views and also to share their experiences, as well as to aware the mass on women's issues from women's perspective.

Data Base System

Realizing the need to manage the data in systematic ways at central office database unit was established. The database system is a planned system of the collecting, processing, storing and disseminating data in the form of information needed to carry out the functions of organization. This unit has its sub-unit in Morang, Sunsari, Udayapur, Siraha, Dhanusha, Dang and Kailali. The database system of WOREC Nepal has been collecting the information and data of programs implemented in working districts.

Database Unit has been collecting data using different formats related to different programs like Safe migration, VAW, Women Human Right Defender, Women Empowerment, Youth program, Women Health program, Child program, Bio-Intensive Farming System and Livelihoods program. The data are then processed in computer using SPSS software. This unit also collects the cases published in National dailies which are fed into computer and analyzed. It also collects data from different governmental and non-governmental organizations, relevant networks, CBOs and women federations.

WOREC's commitments

 Gather, sort, analyze, evaluate, and distribute accurate information to program and other stakeholders.

- Provide data for report writing.
- Maintain uniformity in reporting system.
- Identify the status and assess the impact of program.

- Increase in the number of the documented cases of VAW and women human right defenders which has been supporting for the publication of various reports like Anbeshi, research and analytical reports.
- Recognition of WOREC database from different government and non government organizations. like National Women's Commission, National Human Right Commission, UNIFEM, Rastriya Samachar Samiti (RSS).

Research, Publication V and Documentation

A. Research

For the last four years, WOREC and Himalayan College of Agricultural Sciences & Technology (HICAST) have been providing opportunity to the students of HICAST for thesis research in the targeted districts of WOREC. In 2010, one student of Bachelor of Science (Honours) in Agriculture had done such research work in Udayapur district. The title of the thesis research was as follows:

o An assessment of bio-intensive farming system related support on food security of marginalised households in Udayapur district by Uma Kiran Rijal

WOREC had conducted a research entitled "Interrelationship between economic, social and cultural rights and violence against women." The report was published in 2010.

B. Publication

With a broader aim of facilitating grassroots people, particularly the marginalized groups, CBOs, I/NGOs and GOs, WOREC Nepal has been developing various IEC materials on the issues of human trafficking, safe-migration, gender and violence, women's health, human rights, WHRD, food security, sustainable livelihoods and bio-intensive farming system. The centre has been publishing and widely circulating magazines, newsletters, books, reports, pamphlets, posters and leaflets.
